Wons faces more sex charges

Robert Wons, who was to face a Lake County jury August 15 on sex charges involving Antioch and Lake Villa youths, has been charged in McHenry County with similar offenses.

Wons' trial in Lake County has been postponed because of the new charges, and he is being held in McHenry County Jail without

He was arrested March 30 in Lake County and charged with 14 counts of taking indecent liberties with a child and contributing to the delinquency of a child: Wons has been connected with as many as 19 young male victims since 1978. Many of them lived in Antioch and Lake Villa because Wons had a trailer at the Indian Park Campgrounds in Antioch.

Wons, who was out on bond, faces four more counts in connection with incidents that occurred in McHenry County in June and July. One of the McHenry County charges is deviate sexual assault, which carries a six to 30 year mandatory sentence.

Few people dispute township levy hikes

Even though the Antioch Township Board had publicized the fact that the township was asking for a 30 percent levy hike, only 10 people showed up to carry on an hour discussion on the matter at the public hearings on both the township and road district levies.

The hearings were held on Thursday, August 11, at the Antioch Township Hall.

Both the township levy proposed, and the road district levy proposed, were unanimously approved by the town board after that discussion took place.

Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields explained that in the levy that was announced as a 30 percent increase over last year, the general assistance fund increase

Antioch institution ends Helen Borovicka dies, working at 79

by GLORIA DAVIS

An Antioch institution, the gracious lady at the old drug store on Main St., Helen Borovicka, has closed the pages of a life story laced with activities that told everyone she loved Antioch and everyone who lived there.

She died at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite in Lake Villa, on Thursday, August 11, at the age of 79 years young, suffering a heart attack while she was at work.

"That's the way she would have liked it to be," said her sister, Ruth Elliott, "She was happy doing her

Dick Radtke, whose barber shop is across the street from Reeves Drug Store, the store Borovicka bought with her husband George in 1942 and had run until her death, said that one of the things that stuck in his mind were the wonderful Tuesday afternoons when the first four grades of Antioch Grade School used to march down to Reeves for free ice cream cones courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Borovicka.

Antioch Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said, "No one was more proud of Antioch than Helen. She and her sister would be out on the sidewalk in front of the drugstore waving signs whether it was welcoming the football team or the Fourth of July."

Ruth Elliott said that Reeves was closed and would remain closed for awhile because it would not have a pharmacist.

She added that she really thought that her sister's death might mean the permanent closing of Reeves.

Mrs. Borovicka's obituary is on page 5.

When I think about it

Feel fall's fare falling flat, since summer sun shines

by GLORIA DAVIS

Well it's the middle of August already. Are you ready for fall? I haven't quite decided whether I want to bid old Sol Summer goodbye and say hello to Jack Frost just yet.

I will admit that there were times in the past few weeks that cooler thoughts danced through my mind especially when the humidity had me wringing out the air that surrounded my body.

Actually do we have a choice? Fall is being merchandised all around us. "Think fall." is being screamed at us from all sides and store racks and shelves have been stacked with autumn hued wooly and fury items for weeks.

I often wonder if the powers that be on Madison Ave. have any idea how unattractive these items look through eyes blinded by dripping presperation. And we're bound to have at least six more weeks of warm weather.

Oh sure, sure, you're supposed to get in the clothing act early so you get this fall's newest fashions before they're picked over. I don't know I still find pretty sharp things on the January sale racks.

And it probably is a practical idea to pick out some of the more costly items such as winter coats, some on pre-season sales, pay down on them and leave them on the lavaway racks till it's time to wear them.

But, despite air conditioning, I find it hard to like any garment that I have to struggle into to try it on because it's adhering to the body like its lined with scotch tape.

I'm still not sick of potatoe salad and watermelon! Thoughts of taffy apples, popcorn and hot toddies are still premature as far as I'm concerned.

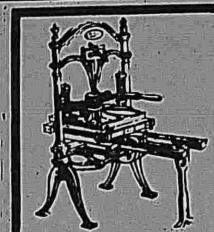

What at all amounts to is that we have been. turned into some kind of sheep who are being herded into supplying a constant retail cash flow despite any necessity or feasibility.

Even the calendar says that the first day of autumn is late in September. And heavens knows we will all be fighting the winter snow and ice long enough and wearing all those layers of clothing for what will seem like forever, so why rush into the next season until we really have to?

Now a lot of kids are ready for school to start and so are most mothers, but who's ready for them to start school on an 80 degree August day wearing the wool plaids and heavy corduroys that are being featured as the ideal back to school wardrobe?

The only seasonal change I'm willing to accept right now are the cooler nights that are already upon us, they make for wonderful sleeping.

So Madison Ave, go stuff all your fall foisting up an oak tree for at least another six or seven weeks and pass me another glass of ice tea, I don't sell snowmobiles or own a ski hills, and I'm still mentally on summer vacation - and forget the smart mental vacation remarks!

Memory Lane

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Anyone in Antioch who is 60 years old and under doesn't remember a time when their wasn't a Reeves Drugstore and a Helen Borovicka on Main St ..

Helen's passing last Thursday is the end of an era in Antioch. An era filled with her kindnesses to many, children and adults alike.

Old Annie Mae can't imagine an Antioch without Helen or without Reeves Drugstore and its five cent cup of coffee.

As Antioch's Mayor Ray Toft was heard to say, "She'll be dearly missed by many. If you were in trouble you could count on Helen."

Hope to see you all out at Harbor Ridge Country Club on Wednesday, August 17, with clubs in hand, for the first annual Chamber Golf Tournament.

The pink and white polka-dot roofed golf cart will be driven by yours truly.

Hey you parents who have been plagued by your kids to help them join in the Viking Football Program, call Nick Pappadakis for information on how to do so at (312)395-5770. I hear the registration dates have been extended.

Chief Chuck Miller tells me that Antioch's DUI arrests at the six month mark already amount to 200 when they used to be 17'a year.

Maybe Wisconsin's Gov. Anthony Earl should see these figures the next time he refuses to sign a bill to raise Wisconsin's age to 21.

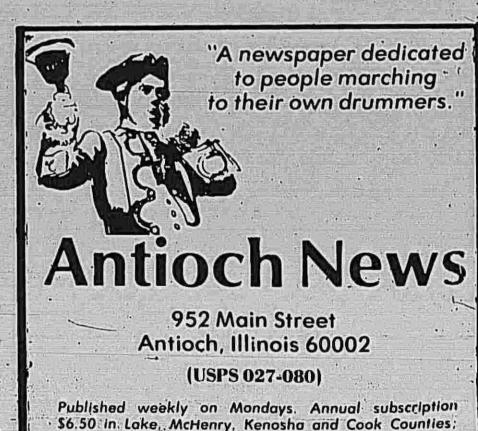

I see that the new roof on the old Antioch Grade School, now the Lakes Region Historical Society Museum, is lookin' good!

Anyone interested in meeting a clever gal whose got the most creative hands should stop in Lakeside Restaurant and ask for Margie.

That cute little. Cathy Cirone has really lost the weight. How did you do it Cathy? Her waist must measure 12 inches around!

PM&L announces productions

The Palette, Masque & Lyre Theatre of Antioch has just completed one of its most successful seasons in recent years, and the new slate of plays and musicals scheduled for next year promises to be just as exciting.

Going into its 23rd year, (that has to be some kind of record), the PM&L can look back with pride on a delightful season that featured lots of humor. Beginning with the popular musical "Guys & Dolls", and then the period charm of "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" and "Mornings' at Seven", PM&L theatregoers were treated to consistently strong performances with a heavy accent on comedy.

"The Gramercy Ghost" followed suit and when "Sly Fox" opened in June, it represented a big step in providing quality adult theatre to this area's residents and playgoers. Judging from the response of this past season's patrons, Antioch area audiences are becoming more sophisticated, showing their appreciation of good comedy; whether it be the old-fashioned "down home" humor of "Mornings' at Seven", or the clever baudiness found in the mature themes of "Sly Fox". PM&L President Tom Hausman and his local thespians deserve much credit for choosing excellent scripts that were both interesting and lots of fun.

With the musical "Stop The World — I Want To Get Off" finishing up its successful run last weekend, all energy has shifted toward Season XXIII; "Project Powerhouse Productions".

Starting with the precedent-setting musical "Oklahoma!" (which broke new ground in the history of musical-comedy when it opened on Broadway in 1943), The Palette, Masque & Lyre will be offering some of the true classics of the American stage, along with a couple of surprises. Without further adeau, here is next season's schedule:

"Oklahoma!" by Rodgers and Hammerstein, directed by Donna Badtke of New Munster, on Sept. 23 to Oct. 8; "Heaven Can Wait" by Harry Segall, directed by Lou Jones of Round Lake, on Nov. 18 to Dec. 3; "The Rainmaker" by N. Richard Nash, directed by Larry Bullman of Ingleside, on Feb. 3 to 18; "Bus Stop" by William Inge, directed by Mark Badtke of New Munster, on March 30 to April 14; "The Gingerbred Lady" by Neil Simon, directed by Barb Miller of McHenry, on May 25 to June 10; "The Labors of Love" by J. Perry and R.N. Porter directed by Tom Hausman, Antioch, on July 21 to August 4 (a musical melodrama).

Season ticket plans are now being accepted for the upcoming season. Applications may be obtained by writing to the PM&L Theatre, Box 23, Antioch, IL 60002.

at least as far as the percentage they raised the levy.

According to DeFosse, he, representing a group of people, admittedly an officially unorganized group, approached Fields last January about getting some of the township's revenue sharing funds to pay the rent on a location that would house a sort of food and clothing pantry for the needy in the Antioch area.

DeFosse claims that "there are plenty of poor people in this area, more than most people know about or are ready to admit are

DeFosse, who says that he and others are tired of being classified among the few who are willing to lay around and accept handouts without working, said that he had been offered free-labor and donations for such a

When Fields turned him down, saying that the township was not in need of that kind of project. DeFosse accused him of "Playing God and sitting in judgement."

"I was told flat out that such a program was not necessary and that the township took care of these kind of things because it was his job," DeFosse said.

"Now he raises the township taxes 30 percent and supposedly the bulk of that raise is the cost of helping people while they wait for state aid," De Fosse added. "What people need at that time is food and clothing and that's what we wanted to do at no cost except for a location to do it from. If there was such a place I'm sure taxes would not have to be raised so much," DeFosse

DeFosse even went so far as to say that "The word was also put out telling no one to give me a location."

He claimed that he had already been offered an empty office but the person declined after being told not to do so.

"Welfare recipients are willing to help themselves," DeFossed added, speaking of the similar successful Lake Zurich project.

"I asked DeFosse how he was going to continue to pay the rent after I gave him the initial money," Fields said, " and he answered that donations would pay it."

. "I did some checking with churches etc. and found that he had nor real organization or substantial support," Fields added.

"Why should I give him money to do a job the township already does?" Fields asked.

"If people want help they'll come to us or their church," Fields said, agreeing that the township would be just spending money on a middle man.

But DeFosse claims there are those that won't ask help from the township and because of "guilt for not attending church or whatever," also will not approach local churches for aid.

After stating that he didn't believe in township government anyway, DeFosse called for "everyone to start working together to get such aid programs started.

DeFosse himself is out of work and has gone back to school to make himself more job-worthy.

24 1933 graduates attend class reunion

The class of 1933 of Antioch Community High School held their 50th year reunion at Andre's Steak House in Richmond, on July 30.

There were 53 people present. Twenty-four members from the graduating class of 40 were present, seven were absent, six are deceased and three were still missing, their where-abouts unknown.

Classmates came from Wisconsin, Indiana, Kentucky and California, but the majority are still living in Illinois and in the area of their hometown of Antioch.

Warren Polley, superintendent of the high school, spoke of the present activities. Miss Cornelia Roberts and Dr. Gerald Reed, former teachers, spoke on the past experiences they had with the class members.

Mrs. Mildred Hulick Chambers, former secretary and her husband from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. were also present.

Township levy

would only amount to two and one-half cents per $100 of assessed valuation and the general town fund levy, only one and one-half cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The general assistance levy will be hiked from $77,000 to $115,000. Both levy increases add-up to an $82,00 hike from $265,000 to

In answer to audience members that called for a stop in tax raises, Fields said that the township received less than a nickel out of every dollar of property taxes paid for by Antioch Township residents, the hike would make it seven cents.

He added that the increase expected in those needing general assistance, plus the longer time the township must assist them while they awaited the added period involved in a public aid approval or denial, had caused him to raise this projection.

Fields agreed with audience members who said people should work for their money.

"I don't object to helping anyone in need," said one attendee, "But I do object to giving my money to people when both the husband and the wife sit home and watch tv. There are jobs out there if they really look for them. When will the township have enough of my Fields said that he was in favor of a work program but, "I would have to hire and pay a man $18,000 a year to supervise a work

Fields added that, by law, he must help anyone asking for assistance until such time as Illinois Public Aid either agreed or denied them help, now a period up to eight weeks in Fields laid much of the discontent of those present at the door of the county and state laws, answering the statement that "The poor are taking advantage of the public," with, "I agree with you but I have to folow the law."

After the board approved the township levy, Dave Heath, Antioch Township Highway Commissioner, explained that the proposed levy increase for the road and bridge fund, from $199,151 to $219,209, showed a 10 percent, or $20,000 increase, but the increase was all due to an expected increase-in assessed valuation.

"If your assessment stays the same, so will your taxes, they'll only go up if your assessment does," Heath said.

RECOGNIZING PROBLEMS

Q. How can a person recognize gum or bone problems of the mouth? Are there signs that can help?

A. Gingivitis (gum disease), or periodontal disease of the tooth-supporting bone, can be recognized by these early telltale signs: pink toothbrush (consistent bleeding of gums), bad breath, puffy gums, or gums that are swollen or reddish in color. Later signs of these problems include receding tender gums, loose teeth, gum abscesses (gums puffy with enlarged soreness), shifting teeth, and spaces between teeth that were never there before.

Gum disease develops slowly. It usually does not cause pain unless an abscess develops, and can move from the gingivitis stage to periodontal disease with no awareness on the part of the patient. This process is not inevitable, though; with early diagnosis and treatment, its primary cause, bacterial plaque, can be removed, and the gingivitis state reversed.

From checking to investment and retirement accounts, GreatAmerican Federal Savings offers all the banking you'll ever need to meet your savings needs.

Earn 51/4% on your checking with just a $300 minimum.

Compare our low $300 minimum balance with the $1000 balance other institutions require. Plus, your first 200 GreatAmerican checks are free.* And if you're a senior citizen your minimum is just $50 and you still earn 51/4% interest on your checking account.

Invest in high interest with an insured money market investment account.

You'll save money, collect high interest, be able to write up to three free checks a month in any amount, and make needed transfers to your checking when it's time to pay the bills. Just $2,500 opens your account; and your account is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Earn 15% interest when you open an IRA!

Our individual retirement account helps you reduce your taxes while it builds toward your retirement. Unlike other IRA accounts, we'll pay you up to 15% interest for the first 3 months, then follow up with 10% interest long term. The maximum deductible deposit for singles is $2,000; $4,000 for working marrieds; and $2,250 for a couple with one wage earner. Just $2,000 opens your IRAaccount.
